

Attendance Policy

New Gen Software Solutions

Version: 1.0

Effective Date: July 2026

Attendance Policy

1. Purpose

The Attendance Policy of New Gen Software Solutions establishes clear guidelines regarding working hours, attendance, flexibility, remote work, and shift schedules. The objective is to ensure operational efficiency while supporting employees with a healthy work-life balance.

Employees are expected to maintain regular attendance, adhere to scheduled working hours, and fulfill their responsibilities in a professional manner.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all full-time employees of New Gen Software Solutions. Specific attendance requirements for interns, consultants, contractors, and temporary employees may vary according to their employment agreements.

3. General Attendance Guidelines

Employees are expected to:

- Report to work on time.
- Record attendance through the company's approved attendance system.
- Complete assigned daily working hours.
- Inform their reporting manager promptly in case of absence or delay.
- Maintain accurate attendance records.
- Follow all attendance-related policies and procedures.

Repeated attendance violations may result in disciplinary action.

4. Office Timing

The standard office working schedule is as follows:

Working Days	Monday to Friday
Office Hours	9:30 AM – 6:30 PM
Lunch Break	1:00 PM – 2:00 PM
Standard Working Hours	8 Hours Per Day
Weekly Off	Saturday & Sunday

Employees are expected to begin work at their scheduled start time and remain available during core business hours.

5. Flexible Working Hours

To support work-life balance, New Gen Software Solutions offers flexible working hours for eligible employees, subject to project requirements and manager approval.

Flexible Schedule

- Earliest Check-in: 8:00 AM
- Latest Check-in: 11:00 AM
- Employees must complete 8 working hours each day, excluding lunch breaks.
- Core collaboration hours are 11:00 AM – 4:00 PM, during which employees are expected to be available for meetings and team discussions.

Flexible work arrangements may be modified or withdrawn based on business needs or performance concerns.

6. Attendance Recording

Employees must record their attendance using the approved attendance management system.

Attendance may be captured through:

- Biometric Attendance System
- Web-based Attendance Portal
- Mobile Attendance Application
- VPN or Remote Login System (for remote employees)

Employees are responsible for ensuring that their attendance is recorded accurately.

Failure to record attendance should be reported to HR within one working day.

7. Late Coming Rules

Employees are expected to report to work on time.

Grace Period

- A grace period of 15 minutes is permitted.

Late Arrival

An employee is considered late if reporting after the grace period without prior approval.

Monthly Allowance

Employees may have up to 3 late arrivals per month without penalty.

Repeated Late Attendance

Frequent late arrivals may result in:

- Verbal reminder
- Written warning
- Performance counseling
- Salary deduction where permitted by company policy and applicable law
- Other disciplinary action for repeated non-compliance

Employees experiencing unavoidable delays should notify their reporting manager as early as possible.

8. Early Departure

Employees requiring early departure from work should:

- Obtain approval from their reporting manager.
- Update the attendance system where applicable.
- Ensure work responsibilities are appropriately managed.

Repeated unauthorized early departures may be treated as attendance violations.

9. Work From Home (WFH)

New Gen Software Solutions supports Work From Home arrangements where business requirements permit.

Eligibility

WFH may be approved for:

- Project-specific requirements
- Medical reasons
- Personal emergencies
- Business continuity situations
- Management-approved flexible work arrangements

Employee Responsibilities

Employees working from home must:

- Be available during official working hours.
- Attend all scheduled meetings.
- Maintain reliable internet connectivity.
- Protect company information and confidential data.
- Meet assigned productivity and performance expectations.
- Record attendance as instructed.

WFH is a privilege and may be revoked if performance expectations are not met.

10. Remote Work Policy

Certain employees may be designated as remote employees based on their role or project requirements.

Remote employees are expected to:

- Work according to approved schedules.
- Maintain regular communication with managers and team members.
- Participate in virtual meetings.
- Follow company security and IT policies.
- Use company-approved communication and collaboration tools.
- Maintain a professional work environment.

The company reserves the right to require remote employees to attend office meetings or training sessions when necessary.

11. Overtime Policy

Overtime refers to authorized work performed beyond standard working hours.

Eligibility

Overtime must be:

- Pre-approved by the reporting manager.
- Required for business or project needs.

Compensation

Depending on company policy and employment terms, overtime may be compensated through:

- Overtime payment
- Compensatory Off (Comp-Off)
- Time-off in lieu of overtime worked

Unauthorized overtime will not normally be eligible for compensation.

Employees should avoid excessive overtime and maintain a healthy work-life balance.

12. Shift Policy

Certain business operations or client projects may require employees to work in shifts.

Typical shift schedules include:

Shift	Timing
General Shift	9:30 AM – 6:30 PM
Morning Shift	6:00 AM – 3:00 PM
Afternoon Shift	2:00 PM – 11:00 PM
Night Shift	10:00 PM – 7:00 AM

Shift Guidelines

- Shift assignments are determined by business requirements.
- Employees will receive advance notice of shift schedules whenever possible.
- Shift changes require manager approval.
- Night shift employees may receive additional benefits in accordance with company policy.
- Shift allowances, if applicable, will be communicated separately.

13. Attendance During Meetings and Training

Attendance at mandatory meetings, training sessions, workshops, and company events is considered part of regular working hours.

Employees are expected to:

- Join on time.
- Participate actively.
- Complete mandatory training requirements.

14. Unauthorized Absence

An absence without prior approval or notification is considered unauthorized.

Examples include:

- Failure to report to work without informing the manager.
- Leaving the workplace without approval.
- Remaining absent after approved leave without communication.

Unauthorized absence may result in:

- Loss of pay
- Written warning
- Performance improvement plan
- Disciplinary action
- Termination in cases of repeated violations

15. Attendance Monitoring

The Human Resources department regularly reviews attendance records to ensure compliance with company policies.

Attendance reports may be used for:

- Payroll processing
- Performance evaluations
- Leave management

- Compliance reporting
- Workforce planning

Employees are encouraged to regularly review their attendance records and promptly report any discrepancies.

16. Policy Review

New Gen Software Solutions reserves the right to modify, update, or amend this Attendance Policy to meet business requirements or comply with applicable laws. Employees will be notified of significant changes through official communication channels.
